After reading the book

What can you do if you want to read more about extreme sports?

Which search words should you use on YouTube to see videos with extreme sports?

Use your imagination. Write a story.

Choose one of the sports you have read about. Imagine you are practicing this sport. Write a little story about what it is like to practice this sport.

You can, for example, start this way:

“I do...”

Or:

“I love...”

You can also determine for yourself how you will start.

The story must be no longer than 150 words.

A story should have a beginning, a middle and an ending. Something should happen in your story. You can describe how you play your sport and what you think about while practicing this sport. You should think about how you will end your story so the reader gets a story with a beginning, a middle and an ending.
